In the beginning, Turlock High School was a mere edifice, and nothing more. As the years progressed, the school continued to grow in tradition and enrollment. With growth, changes were inevitable. And now, after sixty years of tradition, we open a new door.

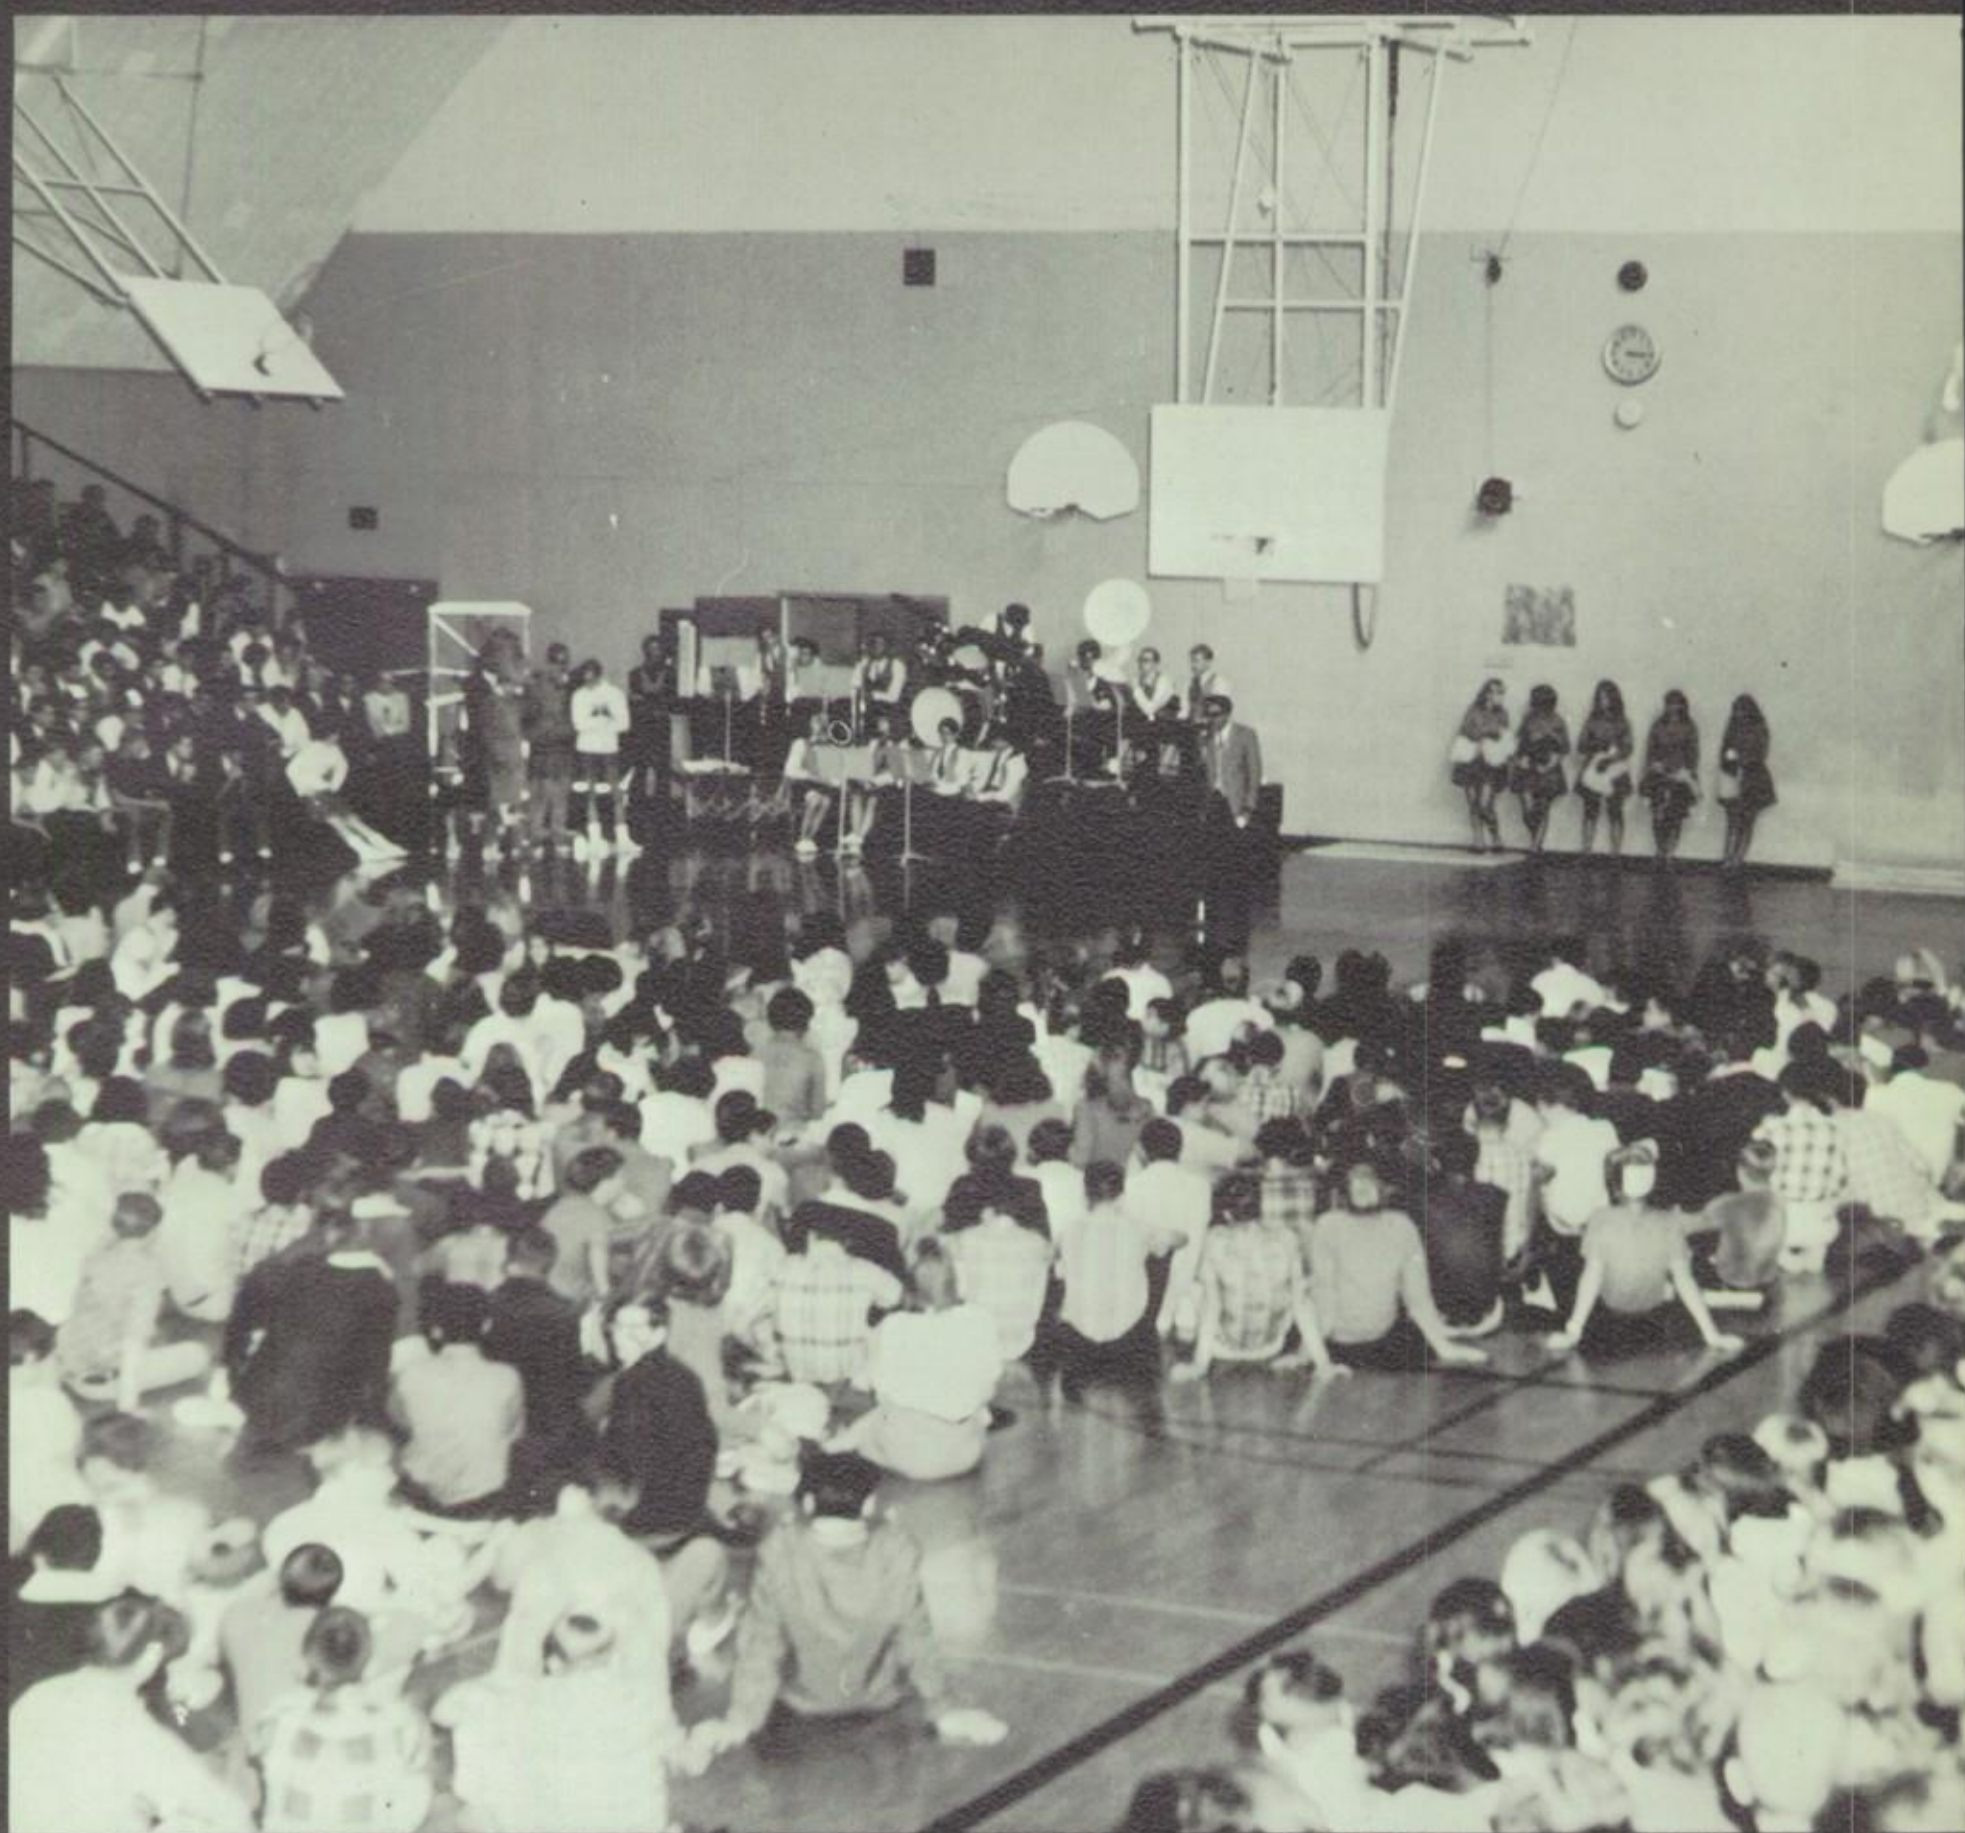

Confronted with a sea of changes, our enlarged student body and faculty, opening this new door, were bewildered by the rapid transformation of the campus. A new administration had taken the reins of leadership this year. Working in close co-operation with the Board of Trustees, superintendent of schools, Mr. Hedden, and our principal, Mr. Weldon, set to the task of reorganizing the school in order to better cope with its many problems.

Reorganization meant many things -- the daily ritual of a milk break, the frustration of referral passes and permits, and an activity period to replace noon-time club meetings now impossible ... it meant a reluctant change in tradition -- the closing of our campus. With this, our students were to behold the birth of double lunch periods at Turlock High School. Now, with less time and crowded cafeteria facilities, students were confronted with the realization that success or failure could depend on a place in line.

Out of the confusion of the transitions came a closer sense of unity which boosted the spirit of the school. With our growing student body it was expedient that rallies be moved from the auditorium to the Boy's Gym. This setting proved to be new, different, and challenging.

Accompanying procedural changes, changes of a physical nature have also modernized our school this year -- the principal's and counseling offices have taken on an air of modernity in design and furnishment; a new music building has appeared adding much beauty to the campus with its contemporary architecture; a student supply store, non-existent before at Turlock High, has proved to be a worthy asset.

The Alert has also succumbed to the pressure of change. This year's Alert has not only increased in size, but it has also taken on a new lay-out form -- the Mondrian style. This is a newer, modern approach to yearbook publication.

By the end of the year, the changes which once seemed strange and vaguely disturbing have become distinguishing features of a year of transition.

dedication

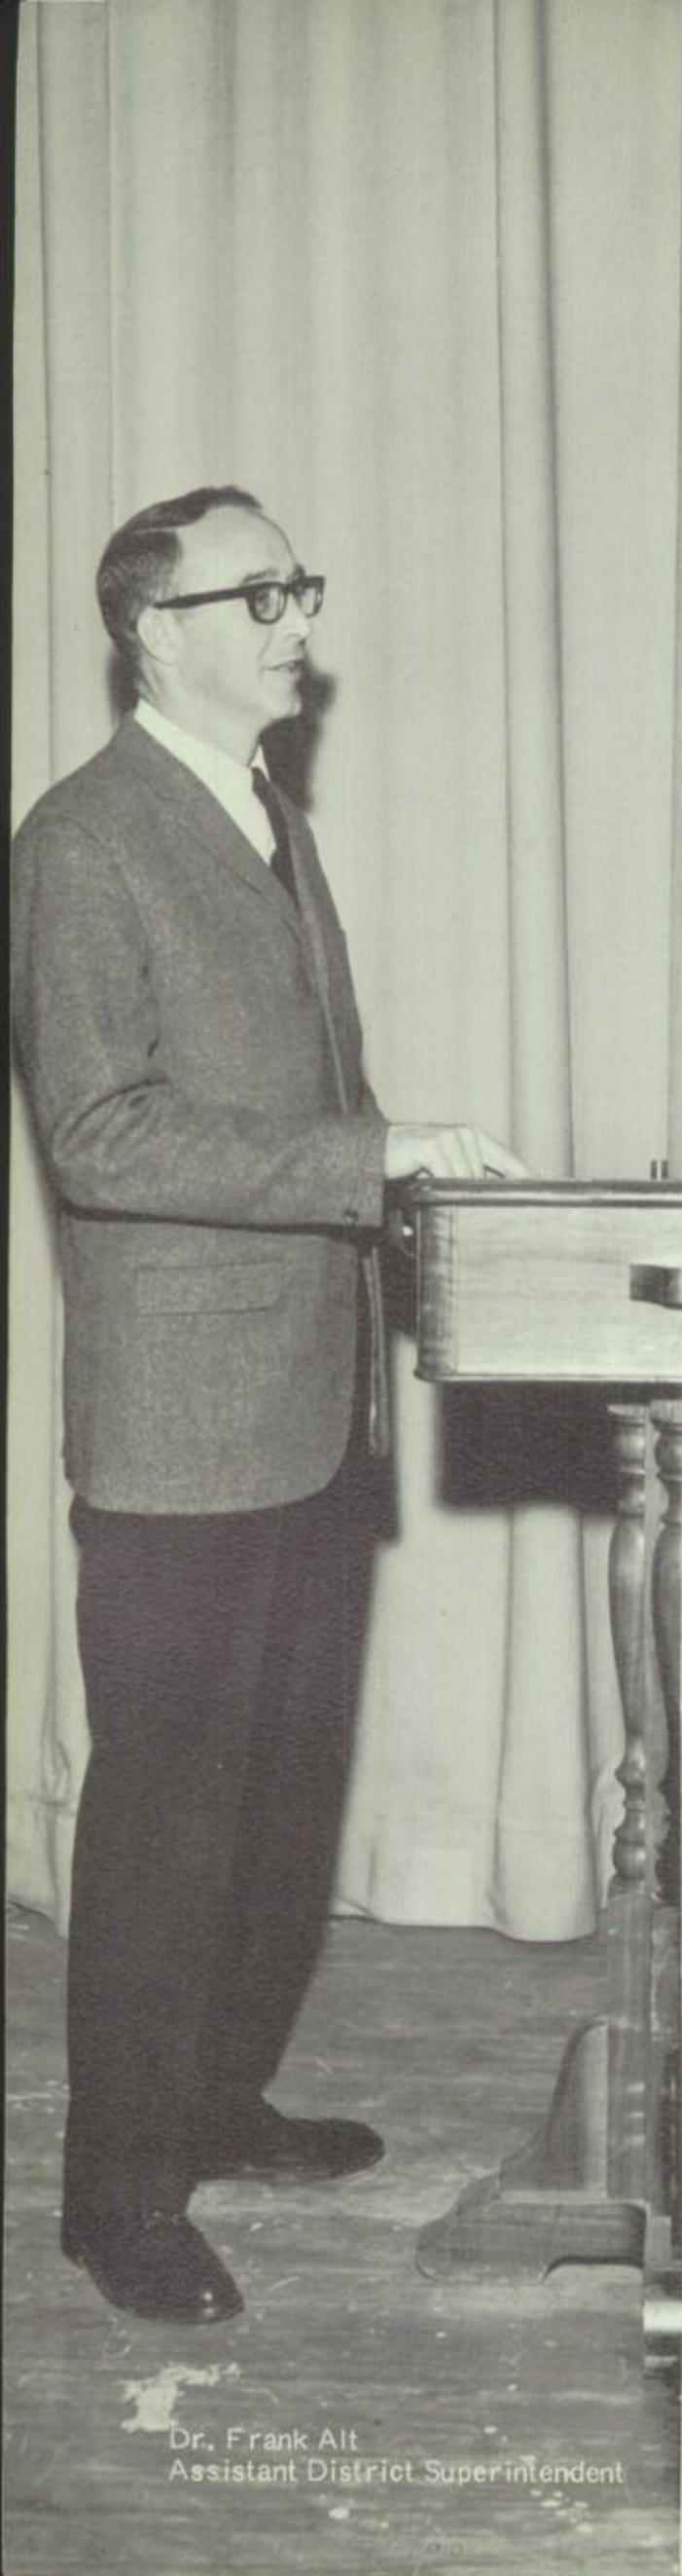

For the past twenty years, Turlock High School has been fortunate in having an unusual man serving on its administrative staff. Part of this man's varied background is that of a classroom teacher, dean of boys, administrative assistant, and, at present, director of student activities. He has devoted countless hours helping the students in their various activities, especially working with the rally committee, Homecoming activities, and the American Field Service Club.

In this year, our year of transition, he has been the liason between the administration and the students. No one has understood and helped the students make the necessary adjustments more than this man.

For his tireless efforts, his faithful devotion, his perceptive understanding of the student's needs, the Alert Staff humbly dedicates the 1967 Alert to Mr. George Marks.

Dr. Frank Alt
Assistant District Superintendent

Growth and then change, crowding and construction---these were the problems that faced Turlock High School this year. Mr. Hedden and Doctor Alt, our new Superintendent of public schools, were instrumental in finding their solutions.

During the summer, they approved a vast reorganization of Turlock High School which meant a great challenge to the student body as well as the administrator (s).

Mr. Hedden, our Head Superintendent received his BA at San Francisco State and his MA at Stanford University. Upon graduation, he served as a coach and Director of Student Activities for the S.F. City School District.

Following this, he joined the Dependents Education Group, a very large educational system operating schools abroad for the children of American armed force personnel. With this organization he went to Italy as an elementary school Principal and then to Germany as a high school principal.

Returning to the U.S. he served as superintendent in Co-velo and Patterson prior to coming to Turlock.

Having received his BS and MS degrees at Purdue University, Dr. Alt started teaching and coaching in Indiana. He later joined the Dependents' Education Group and worked in Germany as vice-principal. After four years he was transferred to Verdun, France where he served as a high school principal until being promoted to the position of Asst. Superintendent for all American schools in Northeastern France. Upon his return to the U.S. he received his Ph.D. at Northwestern University and worked for the Chicago City Schools as Special Asst. to the Superintendent, the renowned Dr. Ben Willis. Leaving Chicago, he came to Turlock as Asst. Superintendent of City Schools.

Standing: Mr. Verne Crowell, Mr. Thomas Hedden, Superintendent, Mr. Carrol Adams; Seated: Dr. Everett

Johnson, President, Mrs. Gertrude Markley, Mr. Donald J. Smith.

Five distinguished members comprise the Turlock High School Board of Trustees. They assemble at regular intervals, depending upon the amount of business at hand, to discuss the overall operation of the school.

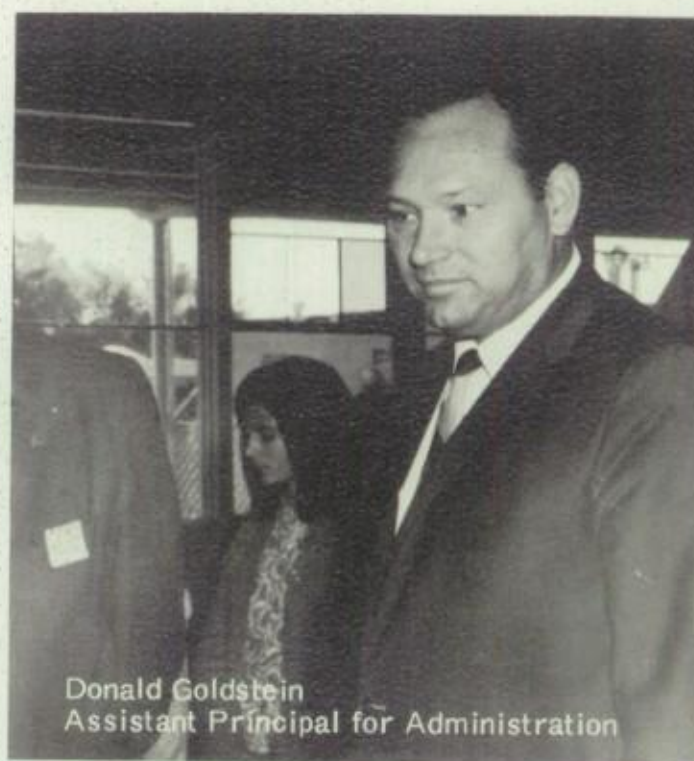

The Board is basically a policy-making body, representing the taxpayers and the public as a whole. Much responsibility has been placed on the members, as they have the important task of hiring professional personnel to administer and to teach. They determine the goals for the school and the administration attempts to fulfill these goals.

This year there have been changes in schedules and procedures here at Turlock High. These changes were mutually decided upon by the Board and the administration. Although these transitions caused some confusion and disagreement, both students and faculty weathered the storm well.

To the Faculty and Students:

It is my pleasure to congratulate the faculty and student body of Turlock High School for making this year as successful as it has been. I hope you will continue to study hard and to participate in as many school organizations as possible. I am sure that you will make good use of what you have learned of our community, our country, and the country and cultures of others.

My special congratulations to the Class of 1967. Your successful completion of high school reflects great credit upon you, your parents, and your teachers.

Best wishes to each of you.

Perhaps one of the busiest men on campus is Mr. George Marks. As Director of Student Activities, his day is spent organizing the various events which give enjoyment to the students. He is responsible for helping with plans for all extracurricular activities at T.H.S.

Also regulating student activities, our deans have various supervisory duties ranging from counselling and checking on attendance to cafeteria duty.

student body officers

Richard Benson - student body president

The officers of our student body give much of their time during the year to help make Turlock High School a more profitable, enjoyable, and enriching experience. Each officer has certain designated duties which they have an obligation to fulfill.

Under the leadership of President Richard Besone, who has participated in many sports and has been very active in different organizations, the student government has been more active than ever before. They have sponsored a clothing drive for the needy families of Appalachia, revised our student body constitution and aided with the accreditation process of our school. With the many changes affecting Turlock High School this year, they have done much to lessen the difficulties of these transitions.

Girls' League is one of the two largest clubs on campus in that it includes every girl attending Turlock High School. Its purpose is to promote good fellowship among the girls at Turlock High School. It accomplishes this through its various activities. A father-daughter banquet entitled "Dads and Dolls" was the major event sponsored by the Girls' League. The highlight of the evening was the announcement of the representatives to Asilomar. The funds raised from this dinner are used to sponsor these representatives. The other major project taken on by the Girls' League was the publishing of a book on etiquette containing good grooming and fashion suggestions.

The Boys Federation (representing all the boys in the school) sponsors a number of activities throughout the year: it elects a Boys' State member, and it presents a dinner for life CSF members in the spring.

Pictured officers, elected at the end of the year, do not include Secretary-Treasurer Tony Leo.

which benefited the entire school. Versed in parliamentary procedure, the council discussed issues pertinent to the student body and carried out their business with efficiency.

club council

This year's club council, headed by Student Body Vice President James Casey, did much to co-ordinate the activities of the campuses clubs. The members of the Club Council, each representing a different club, discussed and decided issues relevant to all clubs. A major activity of the Club Council was the planning of the Football Homecoming Parade in which many clubs entered floats.

Noemy Bogantes was this year's American Field Service exchange student to Turlock from Atenas, Costa Rica. Arriving here last summer, she greatly enjoyed her stay in America. When asked if she was homesick, she said she didn't have the time to be.

In school, Noemy took English 4, civics, history, speech, P.E., and English for the foreign born. Although she found English quite difficult, she greatly enjoyed her civics and U.S. history classes. Noemy found that because of our different customs, her life here was quite a change from that in her native country. She observed that American teenagers are more independent than those in Costa Rica where emphasis is placed on family life.

Besides bringing Noemy to the United States, the American Field Service Program also sent Warren Fine to Finland. Warren attended an all boys' school where he took chemistry, biology, physics, geometry, algebra, history, P.E. and Finnish composition. Like Noami, Warren too commented that he was too busy to be homesick. He enjoyed playing basketball for his school and skiing in Lapland.

Warren's host, the Dr. Rasanen family, did much to make his stay in Finland a pleasant and enjoyable one. He found the Finnish people quite hospitable in many ways, the height of this hospitality being in his opinion, the Finnish "Sauna" (steam) bath.

counselors and advisors

Always ready to assist, our class advisors and counselors do much to guide students' activities and curriculum at Turlock High School. Their job is not an easy one; they are responsible for developing a truly well-balanced intellectual and social environment. Because of the help of the advisors in class money-raising projects, this year's prom continued a tradition of success. The counselors, of course, furnish important advice on careers. Students have reason to be grateful to both groups.

The use of new supplementary material and increased emphasis on the study of current events characterized Turlock High School's history program. Time magazine was frequently read to keep students up with the news.

For the first time a course in economics was offered to our students. Here they learned much about the business trends of our world today. Also being offered for the first time is psychology. Other courses offered by this department are world geography, European history, world history, United States history, and civics. These courses are supplemented by the history department's rich supply of films.

The English Department is the largest one in the school, since most students take English throughout their high school careers. It is headed this year by Mrs. Gertrude Hancock.

Among the offerings in the department are the following courses: Senior English, creative writing, reading workshop, drama, Alert, Clarion, library science, speech, and vocabulary development.

The material covered in the courses varies considerably. Junior English contains a survey of American literature; English on the senior level involves study of leading English authors. In addition to the listed basic courses, students intending to pursue business as a career may take specialized courses.

The agriculture department is a small but important part of our school. Under the direction of Mr. L. M. Clausen (department head) and Mr. Donald Hall, students are taught courses in agriculture mechanics and science. Many awards have been won by our "future farmers" in local and state contests with outstanding projects.

mathematics and science

Our math department, under its head, Mr. Everett Fleming, offers courses for students of varying ability and interest. Besides the more elementary subjects such as general and practical math, the curriculum includes beginning and advanced algebra, geometry, trigonometry, and math analysis.

A class for the physically handicapped and medically excused students is taught by the department head, Miss Dorothy Lochner. Mrs. Hemphill assists with the Girls' P.E. department.

Football, basketball, softball, swimming, volleyball, wrestling, tumbling, and body building are offered by the Boys' Physical Education Department. This department also gives the California Physical Fitness Testing Program to all its students during the year. Sixth period is reserved for those boys participating in an interscholastic athletic sport. Mr. Joseph Debely is the head of this department.

Industrial Arts is divided into six basic subject areas--wood-work, craft design, auto shop, metal shop, electronics, and drafting. Our school is equipped with many machines, allowing the students to deal with more complex problems. They are given information on both design and construction. Heading this department is Mr. Arthur Schmidt.

Driver Education provides a background in the laws and skills of safe driving for the "Future Drivers of America". This course is taught to all sophomores and is required for graduation. It acquaints them with the fundamentals of good driving. "Behind the wheel" driving is also offered at Turlock High School.

Home Economics is divided into three distinct areas--clothing, foods, and a new college preparatory course, home management. Mrs. Judelle Jones heads this department, teaching the girls a number of techniques. This preparation provides for a lasting understanding of home management.

"Song" by John Donne

The large foreboding main building of Turlock High School faced approximately 400 bewildered freshmen in September of 1963. The new students were from several different schools in the surrounding area. Each had different opinions and goals, yet for four years they united together to form one of the most spirited classes in Turlock High's history--the class of '67.

These students were to experience many innovations during their four years at Turlock High School. They were to witness the realization of the John Pitman Science Building, a new English wing, and a new music building. A major transition, which was to test the adjustability of the class, was that of three years under one administration and one year under another. When reminiscing, the students can proudly say that they were mature enough to take in stride all that confronted them.

"Class of '67, here you can tell, we've got the spirit and we've got the . . ."; with the adoption of their class song, the lowly freshmen took their place as a part of the student body. The upperclassmen welcomed the new class with an entertaining coke party (whoopie!). Here the freshmen were oriented to their new school. The first football rally offered an experience which most of them will always remember. With the singing of the traditional song, "Mickey Mouse" by the upperclassmen, the freshmen were initiated into their new school.

The opening of the sophomore year brought the new experience of learning to drive. All the history classes taught Driver's Education for the first quarter. This included thought-provoking lectures, films, and exhibits. Poster parties and class rivalry ended with the sophomore class as the most spirited . . . the spirit trophy was first won by the class of '67.

The junior term found the class preparing for the Junior-Senior Prom. Candy sales, car washes, and other work projects supplied the needed money to the class coffers. The theme, "Dixieland Enchantment," was carried out with a plantation front and an ivy-covered swing.

The grand finale of the students' high school career began with the grueling Scholastic Aptitude Tests, ranging from November to March. In spite of the many academic requirements, the class found time to finance the most glittering social occasion of the year . . . "The Grand Ball," held on April 1st. As usual, the annual Senior Ditch Day was an eagerly anticipated event for the seniors. Sunburned and happy, the class returned from a day enjoyably spent at Lake Yosemite. June brought with it days of commencement practices for the graduating class of '67.

On June 16, 1967, the football field served as the setting for the commencement exercises. The four years of work and play had finally come to an end. The class sang the "Alma Mater" for the last time, and then left in search for a new life.

Perhaps the most select honor on our campus, Life C.S.F., requires that its members make C.S.F. at least four semesters during their high school years, one of which must be in their senior year. This is a distinction that opens the doors of almost any college or university in the nation to the students.

The members are honored with a dinner in the spring where they are presented with the C.S.F. gold pin (which represents the lamp of knowledge), a gold seal on the diploma, and a certificate at commencement. Their names are also engraved on the charter scrolls which hang in the foyer of our school.

Girls' and Boys' State are projects in practical Americanism and citizenship training. Being chosen to represent our school is considered to be a very high honor as representation is limited to two students from each school. The program consists of a week of intensive training in Americanism and government.

Asilomar is similar to Girls' State as it is a girls' leadership conference. Each year five girls are chosen on the basis of their academic and leadership abilities. Two hundred and thirty girls from all over California meet to gain insight into the role of leadership in the world today.

Many honors are won each year by students at Turlock High School. This year the four Bank of America trophy winners were Patty Bostwick in the field of liberal arts, Lois Larson in the field of fine arts, Becky Britton in vocational arts and Richard Besone (not pictured) in science and math. These four also receive a chance to compete in higher competition for scholarships later in the year. Bank of America Certificates in various fields went to Daryl Neil, Lynda Burman, Barbara Foster, JoAnn Thompson, Kitty Julien, Susan Sperry, Sharlene Mowrer, Pat Caine, Robbie Tamaraz, Joe Correia, Bev Morais, and Carl Ostrom.

Bob Jerome received a great honor this year in the field of speech. He competed in the state "Voice of Democracy" contest, winning the local and zone contests, and finally, winning at the state level. He then had the privilege of presenting his speech before the governor and the state legislature. As a result of winning this state contest, he had the privilege of competing at the national level in Washington D.C.

Two of Turlock's seniors were among the highest scorers in a test given in 17,000 high schools throughout the United States. By their outstanding achievement in the National Merit Scholarship competition, Barbara Foster and John Rodman became finalists eligible for scholarships, and also received a certificate of merit.

Chris Kirkham was this year's winner of the Bausch and Lomb science award. Chris was selected by the teachers in the science department to receive this award made available by the Bausch and Lomb Chemical Company to outstanding students in the field of science.

This year, Turlock High School's "Homemaker of Tomorrow" is Miss Marie Antroll. Marie won this Betty Crocker's Homemaker award by scoring highest in the test given to all girls interested in this field.

Lynda Burman, this year's valedictorian was among ten finalists in the Stockton area competing for the P.G.&E. award. Her eligibility for this award was based on her S.A.T. scores and her grade point average. The finalist in this contest will receive $1,000 for the next four years.

Since its creation by the Board of Trustees, the Student Advisory Council has provided a link between the students and the administration. During the monthly meetings, representatives from each class discussed problems the students faced. In turn, the administration had the opportunity to explain their policies.

Another group formed this year was the Student accreditation committee. Because our school's qualifications had to be reviewed, the twenty-six students met on Sundays to voice their opinions about the school and to write a report reflecting the for the accreditation board.

Established in 1926, the Clarion has faithfully produced a newspaper informing the students of all current activities and problems influencing the THS student body. Many of us do not realize the amount of work demanded of each of its members in order to meet publishing deadlines.

The main purpose of the Clarion is to represent THS as a whole, not only stressing the voice of the students but also giving fair representation to the administration and the faculty. In doing this the Clarion has provided us with worthwhile reading material which is informative as well as interesting.

The Nonettes were created by a former THS choral director, Mrs. Sylvia Sateren. Originally the group met after school. Later it developed into a student directed organization. Each spring, auditions for membership are held to replace graduating seniors. The Nonettes are responsible for selecting new members, as well as a student director to assist Mrs. Monaghan, official director of the Treble Clef Choir. It is required that Nonettes be members of the Treble Clef Choir. The membership consists of nine members, three alternates and one accompanist. The group is kept busy singing for school, community service and church activities. Their record of performance is excellent. They won honors for the school at the County Music Festival this spring.

Under the direction of Mrs. Monaghan, the Treble Clef participated in many school activities this year including the Christmas pageant and the Spring concert. They also performed in the County Music Festival and throughout the year sang for community churches and clubs. Each year the 30 members of the choral group are selected by the music directors. Students interested must audition to demonstrate adequate musical and vocal ability to meet the demands of the singing group. Treble Clef was formed to encourage good singing and to develop a repertoire of classic, madrigal, baroque, and modern vocal literature.

Choir, a mixed-voice musical group, was organized in 1920. At present, it is directed by Mrs. Cole. During the year, the twenty-six voice choir performed at various functions. These range from school Christmas and spring concert to the County Music Festival. They also competed in the county solo and ensemble festivals. In addition, they presented programs at various junior high schools in the area. The choir's repertoire includes: religious music, madrigals, folk songs, and Broadway show tunes.

The men's choir is a relatively new singing group at T.H.S. which was established in the spring of 1966. The 15-man ensemble rehearsed during activity periods and evenings throughout the year. They participated in the Christmas and Spring concerts as well as other programs.

The music which the men performed was selected from a variety of periods and styles and represented a mixture of both serious and lighter music, ranging from spirituals to folk songs and popular hits.

Robbie Tamraz

Putting on new faces this year, Robbie Tamaraz and Connie Ruble, alias Butch and Brenda, continued to promote school spirit and lead the Bulldogs toward victory.

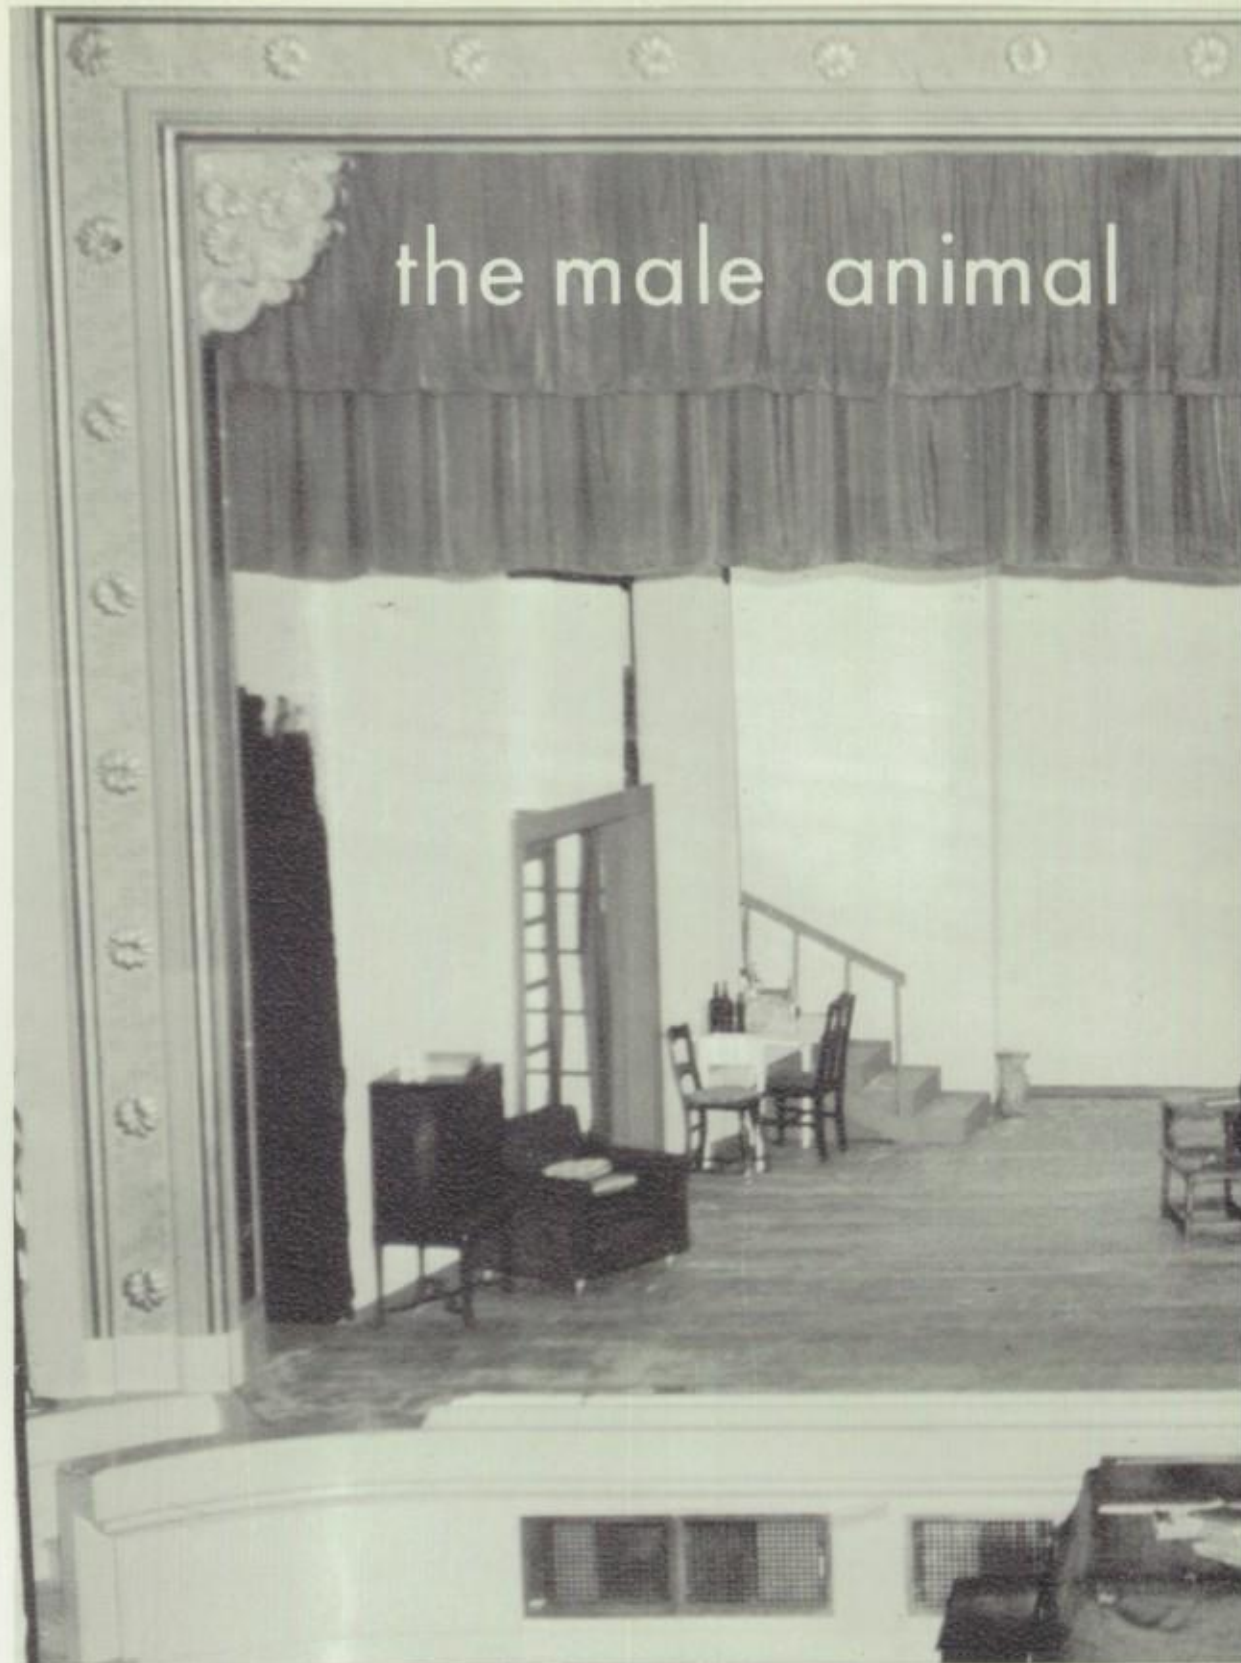

Butch and Brenda are a tradition at Turlock High School. Although their job is sometimes tiring, the fun they have is well worth the effort. Everyone knows that no football game is complete without our Mascots.

Connie Ruble

The first play performed at Turlock High School this year was "The Absence of a Cello". This comedy was put on by interested students and dealt with the problems of a family trying to comply with the rules of a corporation.

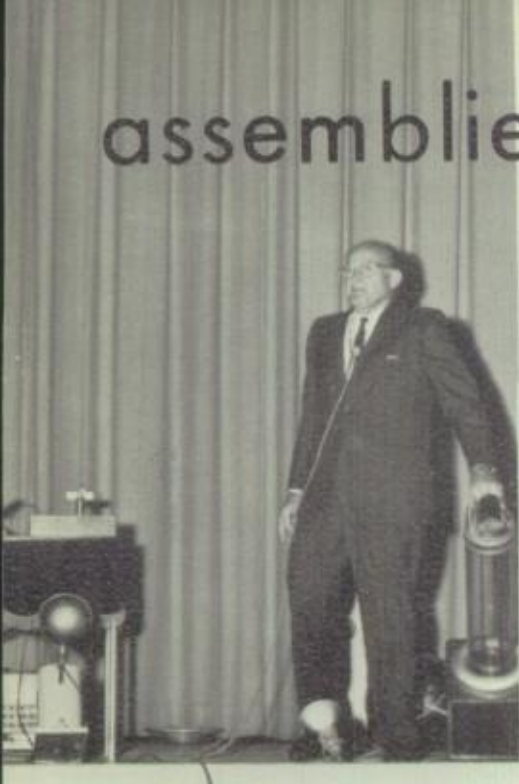

Cast-Celeste Ameer, Jim Casey, Jeanne Leach, Steve Waltman, Barbara Foster, Gary Pursley, Dan Parks, Karla Chancellor, Roger Mooney, Ruth Antroll, Bill Peace, Dana Clark, Ralph Miller

The drama department's spring offering was a comedy by James Thurber and Elliot Nugent, The Male Animal. Lots of action was seen on stage as the characters acted out an example of the "eternal triangle" in which a college professor's wife becomes reinfatuated with her now-famous old flame when he returns to town for the Homecoming Week.

Providing an occasional break to the everyday routine of classes, assemblies added life and color to T.H.S. Among the programs put on by students were the talent assembly and the Christmas program. The talent assembly consisted of ten acts performed by individual students and groups. The Christmas program was a mixture of both vocal and instrumental selections on the secular and biblical side of Christmas.

Students were also entertained with numerous National School Assemblies. Bill Jacobs performed on novelty musical instruments which ranged from musical skillets to marimba puppets. Lynn Blaxom, an entertaining physicist provided a unique science program while Raymond Soares, a baritone singer, presented various selections from Broadway hits.

During the spring, students enjoyed a movie filmed on an African safari featuring astounding adventure as well as informative viewing. A unique program of American folk stories was presented by Ken Arbuckle and a colorful and enjoyable team of folk-dancers called the "Gay Tyroleans" presented gay comedy and music using a variety of unusual instruments. Albert Otto gave an interesting lecture on Winston Churchill entitled "Victory Without Vanity."

No one can dispute the fact that one of the best spirit promoters at Turlock High School is the senior band. Now in its 28th year, it is still the pride of our school. Under the direction of Mr. John Wing, the band's 70 members played at many functions this year. These include performing at various colleges, the Christmas and Spring Concerts, openhouse, and playing and marching at all the local football games. During the year the band competed against other high school bands at the all county and state band festivals. Open to beginning, intermediate and advanced music students, the band's main purposes are to promote band music, to perfect its performance, and to develop a worthy leisure time activity.

Following their motto of "Scholarship for Service", the eighty members of CSF assist their school with registration and new students, tutoring, and the AFS Club International Dinner.

Two district meetings and one regional meeting are held each school year for the purpose of giving the CSF members an opportunity to meet members from other schools. This year the Turlock CSF chapter took its annual education trip to the bay area where it visited University of California at Berkeley.

Organized in 1961, the Turlock chapter of the American Field Service has grown to be one of the most popular clubs on campus. Its main goal is to promote interest in the exchange student program and to acquaint students with foreign cultures. The main project of its eighty members is the annual International Dinner which helps to raise the funds needed to support exchange students.

The annual International Dinner was a great success (with more than 750 guests.)

This year Bruce Johnson, an AFS member, was fortunate to be selected as an exchange student to South Africa.

Noemy Bogantes, exchange student from Costa Rica, became an attendant to Winter Princess at the Christmas Dance.

Since its establishment in 1958, it has proved to be a real asset to the community as well as to the school. Open to all interested girls, the club strives to assist students to find their future occupation, to promote interest in a medically related career, and to achieve a better health program in school.

During the past year, the club has toured the new Emanuel Hospital as well as a bay area hospital and a University School of Nursing.

The Turlock Bulldogs had an unusual but highly successful season this year with a 6-0-4 record. Although the team went undefeated, it ended up in second place in the Central California Conference because of an early conference rule which made a tie worth a half a win and a half a loss. Even though the Bulldogs were runners-up in the eyes of the CCC, they were champions in the eyes of the Bulldog fans.

a year of change: a new alert

Putting out a yearbook is, by no means, an easy task as any Alert staff member would tell you. The time from September through March was busily spent meeting a tight schedule of publication deadlines. Often this meant midnight hunts for the editor's house the night before a deadline, crawling through the window of Room 14 in a frantic search of a lost layout page, or "discussions" with the administration over the acceptability of a picture.

This year the staff was also faced with the drudgery of trying to schedule pictures out of class. Never before attempted lower-class individual pictures were also an experience. But each little incident we can truly say added to the invaluable experience gained of compiling this record of life at Turlock High School. We, the Alert '67 staff, present this book to you with the hopes that it will be enjoyed now and will always bring fond memories of the past school year.

As I sit here, finally relaxed after working on the last deadline all day, knowing that the Alert is finally finished except for this page, I have mixed emotions. There is the feeling of agony of having to write one more thing; yet, there is a feeling of sheer ecstasy in knowing that it is the last thing to be done.

Being editor of the Alert has been an experience! There have been times of joy as each deadline has been completed. There have been times of utter frustration, times of anger, and times of disappointment. There have also been times of humor; the time when I, in bed at midnight, hearing strange noises, suspecting burglars, found that the suspected burglars were only the copy girls, bringing the final copy for a deadline.

Right now, I have a feeling of thankfulness. Many people's efforts have gone into producing this yearbook. First of all, I'd like to thank all twenty-three of the staff members. I'd especially like to thank one of my assistant editors, Bev Shiba. She was always the one who would share with me the many extra hours that were needed to add the finishing touches to each deadline. Thanks also goes to the photographers who spent much of their time after school, taking pictures and saving us hours of waiting by developing the pictures themselves. Walter's Photo Studio also gave us much cooperation by taking the ad pictures after school this year. An extra special thank-you goes to Mr. Olson. He has worked on and helped produce an Alert each year for four years and has finally expressed the desire to pass the job on to someone else.

As we now, in our fiftieth year, close the door on the record of this year, I, as well as the Alert staff, hope that this book will always bring back many memories of the year of great change, the year 1967.
